MAIL the world's a stage. Y quoth the Infmortal Bard of Avon. On the minute part of the world bounded by Kingshighway and Arsenal Streets, the budding actors and actresses on the Southwest stage learn their roles in the complex play entitled "Nife." Dress rehearsals of real-life situations are often encountered in the backstage extra curricular activities. Unparalled directors, skillful prompters and even the latest electronic devices are supplied to help prepare these artists for their part in society. So great is this spectacle that the whole nation unites as sponsor, and justly so, for whether the production is good or bad, the show must go on.

In one of his milder moment, Master Shake-speare uttered these prophetic words: "Mad world! Mad Kings! Mad composition!" With many rehearsals, a great deal of work, and perhaps a little luck, surely the Southwest cast will be able to do its part in improving the crazy world and confining the mad kings or dictators. Only you, the reader, as you survey the unfolding acts of our Southwest panorama, can determine our degree of success in minimizing mad composition.

SOUTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL

Dedication

The Roundup Staff dedicates this product of their anguish and endeavor to a beloved member of the Southwest faculty. By his association with all members of the Southwest cast as teacher of mathematics and physical education, as director of locker assignments, as baseball and football coach, and as Senior Class sponsor, Mr. John T. McArtor has gained the friendship and respect of the entire student body. "Mr. Mac's" continuing absence was due to a serious accident. The students and faculty offer their prayers for his recovery.

The lights have dimmed, the show is over for 1954-1955, and that great puppeteer, Miss Corine Hachtman, again has scored a hit. Her leading men, Richard Boehme and Sylvester Sterioff have performed their duties with admirable precision; her minor actors and actresses have worked faithfully and well. Now June has come, and the curtain has gone down.

These are elected by the members of a given group. Its officers, chosen from the senior body, are students who have been members of the council during their days as under classmen. Its purpose is to give the students a voice in the government of the school, to act as a unifying agent within the student body, and to provide for the school some of the entertainment so necessary to relieve the monotony of the high school day.

Committee counts ballots after election of officers.

And now let us look at what this august body has accomplished during the past year. We have pointed out that the sponsor was well satisfied, so we may be sure the performance was worthy of the trust which was put in it. Probably the most outstanding entertainments for which it was responsible. at least from the students point of view, were the two Hello Day programs. Each of these included a bang-up aud session and later, dancing in the gym during lunch hours. Another social accomplishment of note was the Miss Southwest dance. This, the council sponsored in conjunction with the lettermen. On the serious side — the council fostered

Working with the Junior Red Cross Service Group, it carried out an excellent school project from which one hundred forty-six foreign children received Christmas gift boxes. It sponsored many excellent educational aud sessions. Perhaps the one most enjoyed by the Southwesterners was the Junior Town Meeting of the Air. Here everybody who so desired got into the act. Many other activities which the group performed deserve mention in these pages, but after all, didn't we say that the play is over? We must let our council marionettes have a well deserved holiday.

Parent-Jeacher Association

Pictured below is the executive committee of the Southwest Parent-Teachers Association, an important group of puppeteers. This organization has been responsible for "putting on" a mammoth show during the past year. Our inquiring reporter was astonished when he examined their "skit." Read this report of Mrs. Murphy, the president, and you, too, will marvel.

"We are pleased to render a brief report on the progress of the PTA at Southwest High School and wish to say that this progress is due entirely to the wonderful spirit of cooperation at our school. This cooperation has resulted in concrete benefits to the student body.

"A committee was appointed to call on the Board of Education in an attempt to correct three troublesome conditions in our school. As a result we were successful in attaining the sound-proofing of the cafeteria, improved ventilation of the boys locker-room, and the addition to the building of a wing that will accommodate the Industrial Arts and the Home Economics Departments. We were, also, successful in obtaining the school stop sign and safety-walk-way across Arsenal Street.

"We purchased a television set, material for fifteen pair of culottes for our cheerleaders, two ice-box coolers for our faculty, and mahogany book shelves for our library as a memorial to Mr. Sackett, our former principal. We provided chaperones for various activities of the school, sponsored a dancing class for students, gave a party for each of the graduating classes, and furnished clerical assistance at the Science Fair.

"As we have always found that the parents are interested in the school curriculum, we planned our year's program accordingly, using the theme, "School In Action." The increase in attendance, noticeably of fathers, prompted us to have four night meetings instead of three. Our membership was increased over that of last years. The excellent faculty was represented one hundred per cent. Southwest High School PTA ranks first in membership in St. Louis."

Miss Southwest

The social event of the year was held in honor of Miss Southwest and her Maids on October 15, 1954. Our leading men of the athletic field, the Lettermen's Club, put the spotlight on Miss Southwest of 1954 — Jackie Roux. Supporting roles were played by her charming maids: Ruth Allen, Carole Baumeister, Paula Biggs, Lonnie Henderson, Barbara Jones, Deane Peters, Judy Rascher and Ruth Ann White. After the coronation the student body and friends attended the annual dance, sponsored jointly by the Student Council and the Lettermen's Club.

The primary objective of the Lettermen is to further intensify interest in athletic activities, although the club occasionally sponsors a social event. One of the social events co-sponsored by the Lettermen's Club and the Student Council is the annual Miss Southwest dance.

Cheerleaders

Sponsor: Mr. Forti

Co-sponsors: Miss J. Mueller, Mr. Forti To represent Southwest is their honor. To inspire our boys to victory is their goal. To lead the fans in cheers is their duty.

Yes, the cheerleaders' purpose is manifold and these girls do their best to fulfill the undertaking. Led by Captain Jackie Roux, the cheerleaders are at every athletic event, rain or shine. In addition, this group, shown in the picture above, has done an excellent job of breaking in the new cheerleaders. Captained by Sharon Robinson, Judy Allred, Suzy Weber, Yvonne Edelen, Jan Zinzer, Joy Graves, and Carole Duke will take over at next year's games.

Stringent efforts are required to earn a cheerleader letter. First, a cheerleader must meet the same scholastic requirements demanded for athletic participation, and her citizenship must be sanctioned by the administration. Next, the difficult part, a cheerleader must be elected by the student body for one year. Hereafter, she must be at every practice and at every activity to which she has been assigned.

As you can see, a group of girls with boundless energy and never-ending cheer are our cheerleaders.

Although getting off to a slow start, the Longhorns finally got rolling with at 32 to 13 victory over McKinley. The Kennymen went on to win their last four games, consequently tying for second place in league play with a record of four wins and two losses. In addition our boys played a commendable post-season game against Webster Groves, the team voted first in the state by the sports writers.

This year's team was plagued by injuries which allowed many Juniors to participate in actual games. With these boys having a season's experience, Southwest will be a strong contender for next year's league title.

Outstanding football stars in the "Longhorn Stock Company" are Co-Captains Ted Stergion, (top) and Joe Biondo.

The battling "B's," coached by Mr. Merchant, had a successful 1954 season. The Junior Longhorns won three games, lost two, and tied one. Actually they played better football than indicated by their record. Coach Merchant did a commendable job considering that he had to develop inexperienced players. The close scores of the games indicated that these boys were instilled with a fighting spirit.

Backs Ed Merkle, Don Jones, Bob Mc-Ready, and Joe Pallazzo plus lineman George Radford showed promise—and with proper seasoning should help our varsity team next year.

Varsity Basketball

Coach: Mr. Ashley

Southwest "favored" as a last place team upset the "experts" by nabbing a tie for fourth place in the Public High School League, much to the dismay of the sports writers. The Cagers were inspired by captain "Chubby Rick" Lessman (fall), "Little" Charlie Rieder (spring) and leading scorer Dave Heiland, who produced a high average by making 41.9 per cent of his shots. Big Dave also excelled in free throws by making 67 per cent of them. In league play Southwest won thirteen and lost twelve—a better than 50 per cent average.

In non-league play, the Hancock Invitational Tournament was the climax of Southwest's hard climb to the top of the ladder. Although we missed the championship by one rung Southwest took runners up honors proving that if there's a will there's a way.

Coach Ashley predicts another even greater team for next season's play because of the fine showing from his sophomore and junior members.

Row One: D. Witte, A. Berving, B. Eydman, G. Costas, C. Stolze, B. Gebhart.
Row Two: R. Palazzo, T. Cook, R. Schuermann, R. Karban, D. Spencer, C. Witt, G. Gruenewald.
Row Three: F. Matthias, J. Palmer, D. Becherer, A. Kriemelman, B. Mathews, B. Haley, G. Brandt, W. Collier.

"B" Basketball

Coach: Mr. McArtor

After a dismal start, the beardless bucket boys finally blossomed into a well-balanced ball club. Coach McArtor worked hard with this team composed almost entirely of freshmen, to inspire them with the desire to win. However, the real ambition of the Southwest "B" team is to select and encourage boys with natural ability who might help the varsity in future years. Mr. McArtor used fine discretion in fulfilling this purpose. Don Spencer, leading scorer, and Bill Eydman should graduate to the varsity next year to help Mr. Ashley's crew.

The junior cagers had an overall mark of 10 won and 10 lost, but the event which more truly indicated their conscientious efforts was the Public High School Tournament. In this finale of the season, the Steers defeated Roosevelt, Hadley, and Central, before losing to a steadfast Beaumont team. This inspired finish to an otherwise mediocre season, earned Southwest the runner-up spot in the tourney besides promising better results for next year.

Baseball

Coach: Mr. Kenny

Sparked by Captain Richard Lessman and leading hitter Jerry Insalaco, the Longhorns had another successful baseball season under the direction of Mr. Kenny. The team's total record for the 1954 season was eighteen won and nine lost, while in league play our boys won ten out of fourteen games, a dazzling .714 average, surpassing the record of the American League Cleveland Indians. Coach Kenny's boys ended in a tie for second place with Beaumont, bowing only to the McKinley Goldbugs, who took the pennant. At the end of the season Jerry Insalaco with a .386 batting average was voted Most Valuable Player by the members of the team.

Coaches Gerber and McArtor were fairly well satisfied with the 1954 Track Team, which staged a successful league season, as it won four meets and dropped two. The total record was an even five wins against five losses with the District Meet highlighting the season. The fourth place honors in this meet determined the team's fourth place league standing.

Junior Captain Julian Rascher, Senior Captain Rodney Wilson, and three letter man Tom Lutzenberger, who, by the way, took the third place medal in the Senior high jump, were outstanding actors in the track scene.

Golf

Coach: Mr. Ashley

Hail the Champions! Yes, in this drought year of Southwest supremacy, the golf team came through with our sole Championship. Coming through when the chips were down was the necessary projection which gained first place in the Public High Golf Tournament for Southwest. The team's record for individual matches was a sparkling eleven won to five lost. There is more good news about our turf toppers; Mr. Ashley eyes another crown with co-captains Ray Weidner and Doug Skinner returning. In addition, Mel Fisher should be up to par as he was low-stroker in the tournament last year. WOW!

Jennis

Coach: Mr. Chervenka

Southwest's 1954 Tennis Team had a mediocre season, winning three hundred twenty-six games and losing three hundred seventy-three for a total of fifteen matches won over twenty lost. The singles players had a bit of hard luck, having only five total wins, but the team was saved from further defeat by the two doubles teams, who were instrumental in our securing fifth place in the Public High League with a total of fifteen wins. In two matches, however, the team showed championship form, gaining victories over Sumner and Roosevelt, copping both by a four to one majority.

Coach Chervenka, the optimist that he is, is still hoping for another Ziervogel to spark future Southwest Champions.

Cross Country

Coach: Mr. Glusenkamp

"Over hill, over dale, as we hit the dusty trail"—This is probably the unofficial song of the hard-running Cross Country Team. Coached by Mr. Glusenkamp, the boys started practice in September and the season lasted until the State Meet on October 29. The team was composed of seven boys with Co-Captains Jim Knox and Charlie Miller leading the pack. In the big race the Southwest boys took seventh and eighth places out of the stiff competition offered from eighteen different schools. This performance was a decided improvement over that of the previous year.

Home Stretch: These hard-running cindermen condition regularly for their gruelling event.

Girls Athletic Association

Sponsor: Miss J. Mueller

Just as everyone is interested in a puppet, everyone is interested in a new club. Southwest was very fortunate this year in acquiring Miss Jean Mueller who brought with her the plans for a Girls' Athletic Association. This organization has set firm roots in the Southwest soil and will grow even bigger from year to year. The club had about 500 active members to participate in its various sports. These sports include volleyball, swimming, bowling, tennis, basketball, officials club, and modern dance group.

If the girls are really interested in enough sports, steady in attendance and maintain a C average, they are eligible for a letter or some other award. These letters are not easy to obtain but go to the very deserving few.

What has made this group the fine success that it is? Mainly, the aid and guidance of its never tiring sponsor and the endless hours she has put in to help these girls. She has

In the fall of the year, Marlene Lamm was chosen for president, Georgia Sullivan for vice-president, Jane Williams for secretary, and Betsy Busch for treasurer. Spring came around with the re-election of Marlene Lamm as president. The other offices were filled with Sylvia Madalon as vice-president, Marlene Simon as secretary, and Georgia Sullivan as treasurer. These girls carry out the wishes of the entire G. A. A. (as it is known around school), truly a democratic organization.

This spring all efforts were combined and the G. A. A. tri-sponsored a dance along with the Student Council and the Senior Class.

Girls Volleyball

"Block that spike!" That's a familiar yell that can be heard coming from the gym any Tuesday after school during the months of October through December. Yes, it's the Volleyball Club, lead by their president, Sylvia Madalon.

This group, under the jurisdiction of the G. A. A. has had a busy season. When the group organized, they divided themselves into eight teams, each team composed of players ranging from semester one through eight; and a round-robin tournament was held. Team six, (top left picture) captained by Jackie Schlechte, was top team with no defeats.

Scon, the club was invited to play Soldan Blewett, and two teams were chosen for this. Out of the four games played, the Southwest girls won two. However, Soldan, the superior team at the time, won on total points. Later, the club invited the Soldan girls to Southwest. This time Southwest showed quite an improvement, due to the excellent guidance of their sponsor, Miss Jean Mueller; and three of the four games played were won by Southwest. Total points were added, and Southwest was far ahead.

Basketball goes to her head.

There are about one hundred and twenty marionettes in the Girls Basketball Club, one of the most popular clubs in the entire. G.A.A. Basketball has had, perhaps, its biggest season. Many events have kept this enthusiastic group upon its toes all year. Eight teams, composed of fourteen players each, started the season with the traditional tournament schedule. Occasional interruptions to this schedule occurred only with the invitations for play from McKinley and Soldan Blewett. There were four invitations in all. This gave most of the girls an opportunity to play the different schools.

This being the first season for play as a part of the G.A.A., the club has seen defeat many times-each time in a good sportsmanlike manner. Every game showed a definite improvement over the last.

Although there has always been a Girls Basketball Club at Southwest, this is the first year lower termers have been invited to come and play too. A good portion of the teams were composed of lower termers. Everyone had an equal opportunity to play and participate.

These girls, under the guidance of Miss Jean Mueller, have shown much progress through her tireless efforts. She has worked early and late to help the entire group and to show the girls who were selected for invitational play many skills and techniques that will improve their play. "Hats off to Miss Mueller", says this Roundup reporter.

As every play must have its director so every organized sport must have its. These are the directors that keep the volleyball and basketball games moving smoothly. Yes, the referees, umpires, scorers, and timers are all represented here. This, perhaps the most active group in the entire G. A. A., gives up much of its free time to see to it that the rest of the clubs run smoothly.

To see that games are refereed fairly and that the referees know the rules, a referee's test is given at the beginning of each season. Howver, one girl does not specialize in one thing. One week she may be the referee, the next week the timer. These girls, all being players as well as directors, are often invited to different schools to play. This season they have been invited to schools on four occasions.

Miss Jean Mueller, their expert sponsor, is to be thanked for bringing this group along with the many others into the Southwest spotlight.

Did you ever hear of the "Pinkies", or the "Strikettes", or the "Gutter Dusters", or the "Ten Pins?" Have you ever been over to the Arway Bowling Alley on either Wednesday or Thursday after school and seen a group of girls bowling strike after strike? Well, maybe it would be an exaggeration to say the members of this group, the Girls Bowling Club, bowl all strikes; but they have a good time bowling each week whether they do or don't.

Sometimes there is an atmosphere of excitement which you feel as you approach the bowling alley. It's that good old spirit of competition showing up. Each member is working for the trophies awarded to high single, high average, first place team, second place team, and third place team. These trophies are awarded at the big social event of the year, the Bowling Banquet—the event which tops all performances and is a time when everyone has a good time and

What keeps a group like this running so smoothly? Mainly, the cooperation between its officers and its never tiring sponsor Miss Vera Ulbricht, who has taken over the club this year. Miss Ulbricht has spent many hours seeing to it that this organization runs smoothly and efficiently. This is perhaps the largest single group at Southwest, and Miss Ulbricht is working to make it even bigger and better. Along with Miss Ulbricht is a group of hard working officers. Jackie Koch was elected to the spot of president. Jane Williams, Audra Lewis, and Jackie Schlechte took over the very important jobs as secretaries, with Georgia Sullivan acting as their assistant. Also, another big job, that of treasurer, was taken care of by Kate Trelford and Ann Steinmann.

Pep Club

Sponsor: Mr. Forti

Pep Club members are a hardy lot. They must be hard as nails, both physically and mentally, to endure the many hardships encountered at our athletic events. In retrospect, recall the role of the average Pep Clubber during the past year.

As the cool fall days lengthen into chilly autumn nights, the trials of our average member begins. Garbed in shoulder pads, helmet and castiron shoes, this miss rides sedately and safely to the game on our Public Service bus. Once comfortably seated in the stands, the member carries out her mission of arousing spirit. This she does by exhibiting boundless pep to set an example for the apathetic spectators to follow. This pep may be exhibited by casting confetti, but for maximum effectiveness cheering is utilized. Since these cheers must be clearly heard in the enemy camp, diction and tone must be emphasized. These tones range from the eardrum bursting, glass breaking screech reserved for touchdowns, to throaty moans denouncing fumbles. Facial contortions delighting any dramatic coach are practiced at home for faultless display at crucial games.

The warmer atmosphere of the basketball gym summons even the less hardy but equally enthusiastic members. Versatility is here encountered in club members' makeup, for cheers concerning dribbling and shooting instead of "smashing and busting" are in order.

In the Spring a young man's fancy turns to tender thoughts of cinder tracks and baseball bats. With the Spring also enters that old vernal vandal, Spring Fever. Even the most ardent Pep Clubber can barely muster a "Yippee" when so affected. However, just the presence of these usual bundles of energy is enough to spark any player.

Mr. Forti, able sponsor, is fully aware of the tremendous responsibility in the grasp of his female forces. Though the players go through the required motions on the athletic field, this contingent of feminine pulchritude controls the school spirit, the winning spark. Paraphrasing the words of Shakespeare's fellow countryman, John Milton, we conclude by affirming "They also serve, who only stand and cheer."

The Cheerleaders Club takes the center of the stage when it comes to cheering at our athletic contests, for the members of this group make a study of the techniques of cheerleading. They tell us its a real art, too. What is the ambition of each one? Its to be chosen one of those leading performers, a cheerleader. This is not an easy accomplishment. Let us enumerate the steps which a candidate must take. Any student, providing he can serve two full semesters, may audition for the role. However, before the final election, which takes place at the close of the autumn semester, the future cheerleader must pass a strenuous period of training. Then, if the administration ratifies his citizenship and scholastic qualifications, he is eligible to audition before a special committee of Student Council judges. The candidates who survive this elimination test then appear before the entire student body, which elects ten of them to be cheerleaders.

Let us raise the curtain on the French Club, which meets on alternate Wednesdays in Room 207. The purpose of the club is to learn more about France, and the French influence in our country, especially in our city. As St. Louis was founded by the French, our city offers a rich field for those interested to visit historical points of interest in and about St. Louis.

Interesting programs and social activities are planned by the club's program committee. This year, travel movies in color of France, the Riveria, Mont St. Michel, and Paris were among the favorites. A field trip to the Missouri Historical Society in the fall was followed by a "weiner" roast. The annual Christmas party in cooperation with the other language clubs gave all the language students the opportunity to sing the favorite Christmas Carols of other lands.

In the spring semester, a more serious by-product of interest in French coiffes and Lily Dache Easter bonnets developed into aiding the Therapy Program of the St. Louis Children's Hospital. The vice-president, Bonnie Powell, directed the club members in the making of "party hats" for the convalescent children's birthday celebrations. The spring term closed with a field trip to historical St. Genevieve, Missouri. Join the French Club and visit France—in St. Louis and Missouri.

Hora Latina

Another hour, the Hora Latina, has been added to the schedule of a hundred fifty students at Southwest High. By their membership in the Hora Latina these boys and girls are showing their interest not only in a language other than their own but also in the rich culture that has been bequeathed to them through the Latin language. This interest is a tribute to them and a reflection of parents who look back with nostalgic pleasure to the days when they were learning amo, amas, amat and who realize how much they were helped in acquiring a command of the English language by the hours spent in learning Latin.

Rome, "the eternal city", has never lost its power to stir the imagination of countless people. Latin, so often called a dead language, has shown a remarkable tenacity to hold its own in competition with other foreign languages and with other elective courses that require a close application of the mind. This so-called dead language lives in the Romance languages—Italian, French, Spanish, Roumanian and Portuguese. It lives also in the English language—not only in the specified vocabularies of law, science, medicine, and religion but also in the general vocabulary of everyday use. After so many centuries its influence is still strongly felt. This influence the members of the Hora Latina not only feel but are helping to keep alive. They are meeting their responsibility in preserving a rich heritage of the past.

The meetings are held on Thursdays of the even weeks. Miss Steffen and Miss Woody are the cosponsors.

"Land of faith and valor—"

How well these words express characteristics common to all American people. Since the inhabitants of the Americas have common heritage, common resources, and common enemies, it is only proper that they get to know each other better. This, then, is the purpose of the Pan-American Club.

To accomplish this the enthusiastic sponsors, Miss Mc-Namara and Miss Rothman, and the officers have provided a stimulating program including Latin American speakers and Mexican movies. However, realizing that all work and no play makes Juan a dull muchacho, the club program was well rounded with picnics and fiestas, including the all-important combined language club party.

The highlight of the year occurred on Pan-American Day when the entire club celebrated the occasion by presenting a dancing, singing extravaganza to the Freshmen. A glimpse into the workings of the Pan-American Union was also provided by these talented performers. Perhaps next year the entire school can be enlightened and entertained by such a sparkling, well enacted performance.

The German Club meets every other week. At this time the members lustily sing good old-fashioned German songs. Besides singing they play games and learn poems and idioms. These activities are all directed toward the club's serious purpose—that of proficiency in conversational German.

"All anfang ist schwer," says Miss Westphaelinger. "But a little effort each day will accomplish our purpose," she adds.

With September of 1954 came an added attraction to the show at Southwest—the F.T.A. Club. As we all know teaching insures the development of our civilization. This is a most important task, for our nation must keep moving forward.

The F.T.A. Club strives to encourage young people to enter the teaching field and to acquaint them with this profession.

Music at Southwest

Miss Meyer, having great skill in bringing forth the vocal harmonies from the pupils belonging to the advanced choruses, the glee clubs, and the choir, has supplied Southwesterners with much good entertainment. In addition to this, she is very adept at the piano and the organ.

Mr. Monachesi, aside from having a most magnificent voice, is the director of the band and the orchestra. His groups have led the way in providing superb music for the operetta, the spring festival, the football games, and the many other important events that take place in connection with our daily school life.

The Clef and Quaver Club, which is now in its third year of existence, is an honorary musical appreciation organization open to all instrumentalists and vocalists who have won a music letter. A music letter, the symbol of Clef and Quaver membership, is available to any student who has served in any one of Southwest's many splendid musical groups — Orchestra, Band, A Cappella Choir, Boys Glee Club, Girls Glee Club, Junior Girls Glee Club, and Advanced Chorus—and who has participated wholeheartedly in all the principal activities of his particular organization. who have fulfilled these qualifications have several meetings each year. During these gatherings, the young virtuosos at hand enjoy talks from various representatives of the music world, group discussions, records, movies, and performances by fellow members. Besides scheduled meetings, this group is kept busy with social parties and picnics. All in all—this fine club presents many opportunities for fun and fellowship, as well as for a wealth of music.

Our band, directed by the one and only Maestro Libero B. Monachesi, has what might be classified as a dual personality. By this, we mean that it is a concert band as well as a marching band. Through its concert work, this group has played for the P.T.A., an open house program, a freshmen auditorium session, our many pep sessions, and the spring festival. As we look back at the past year, we can hear the echoes of such selections as "Pavanne," "Mexican Hat Dance," and "La Cumparsita." Through its marching, it has perhaps been the best advertisement our school has ever had. Some of the events which might belong in this category are the cornerstone laying for the New Technical High School, the annual spring clean-up parade, and our many football games. Two of the most popular renditions that the band members play for such events as these are "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "Queen City."

A letter may be earned by being in the band for four semesters. Won't you be one of "Monty's Music Makers" next semester?

Southwest Orchestra

Director: Mr. Monachesi

Our magnificent orchestra, about 60 eager musicians, directed by Mr. Monachesi, known to most students as Monty, has been one of the busiest of our music groups this year.

The semester was opened by the semiannual Hello Day program in which the orchestra played, among other things, "Jazz Legato". One of the most important events of this year was the Miss Southwest Dance. The music for this occasion was provided by our orchestra. November brought the freshmen auditorium session in which the orchestra was featured. The purpose of this program was to present the freshmen with one of the many opportunities that are available to our students, if they will only seek them. For this program the orchestra played a medley of Leroy Anderson's more popular favorites and several of Sigmund Romberg's hits such as "The Desert Song", "Wanting You", and "Lover Come Back to Me". Next came the highlight of the fall semester, our operetta, "Good News". While most of us were still remembering the many hit tunes that appeared in the operetta, the orchestra was busily preparing for the Christmas auditorium session in which it played a new arrangement of Christmas songs entitled "Christmas Fantasy".

The spring semester was opened by the March Hello Day program. Soon followed an Open House program in which the orchestra played several of Sigmund Romberg's selections, "Gypsy Legend", and several songs from "Rio Rita". The semester was closed by an appearance in the annual spring festival.

With the many bright, cheerful items of this flowering spring semester came another step in the melodious staircase to vocal stardom here at Southwest—namely, the newly formed Junior Girls Glee Club. This ensemble exists for several essential reasons. Although its primary objective is to prepare its members to take important roles in the Girls Glee and other choral groups, it, at the same time, gives the more musically minded students the opportunity to perform in choral activities.

Amata, S. Hasekamp, J. Green, S. Schrand.

In its short existence this junior group—which already boasts seventy-five songsters, many of whom are freshmen and sophomores—has advanced considerably. Practicing daily the second period in the auditorium on such traditional favorites as "Skater's Waltz", "Green Cathedral", "Baby's Boats", "Three Little Maids", and "Kentucky Babe", it soon won the honor of performing for an audience and made its debut before the freshmen class. This splendid audition of ability, in turn, made the group a "must" in the spring festival, an event which proved that the Junior Girls Glee Club is well on its way to being a fine euphonious concert ensemble.

Besides singing, this music organization, as all others, is interested in social activities. It participated in the annual combined music picnic this spring for the first time and has been planning parties of its own. Thus, work and fun are rolled into one! Why don't you sign up for a role in this splendid junior cast of singers?

The advanced chorus classes mark the first stepping stone along stardom's road. There are approximately three hundred and forty-five Southwesterners belonging to these choral groups pictured here. Together they form one of the largest groups of its kind that has been seen on the stage at Southwest in many years, and prove our contention that just about everyone in the school is singing. The two classes outnumber the combined forces of A Capella Choir, Girls Glee, and Boys Glee. This year they have sung for such events as the operetta, the Christmas auditorium session, and the spring festival. These song birds, however, have not spent all of their time singing. They joined the other music groups in a number of social activities. The most outstanding of these being the fall hayride and the annual spring picnic.

"Sigh a note, and sing a note." Love's Labor's Lost

Since signing up for Girls Glee Club that bright September morning, about 180 girls have sung many, many notes. These girls, who compose one of the school's "top" musical groups, have, as their calendar shows, added their harmony to practically all the numerous events which have taken place in connection with Southwest during the past year. Their lyric voices rang out joyously in the September Hello Day aud; they added both beauty of voice and person to the operetta; they scored a hit in a December broadcast which was heard over radio station KXOK; they brought cheer and merriment to the Christmas auditorium session; they participated in the February Hello Day aud; they added gaiety to a freshmen auditorium session on St. Patrick's Day; and they finished the year with an overwhelming success, the spring festival. The appreciation and the applause shown by their many audiences more than make up for the diligent labor and precious time that they have spent in daily practice the third period, plus those long extra rehearsals.

Of course there are special rewards for hard work, and this year those of the Girls Glee Club included hayrides, weiner roasts, slumber parties, a Christmas Party, and the annual gigantic music picnic.

"Let the sounds of music Creep in our ears."

The Merchant of Venice

The music of about sixty young, robust tenors and basses-which collectively form our illustrious Boys Glee Club—has "crept into our ears" repeatedly during this past year. As a result of their daily perseverance during the sixth period in Room 400, they have added quality, as well as variety, to Southwest's 1954-1955 musical program. Beginning their calendar by adding more zest and pep to "Good News", the operetta, they went on to add an equal amount of cheer to the Christmas auditorium session, which terminated the year of 1954. These boys opened their schedule for the new year with a special concert for the pupils of Nottingham School, where they were warmly welcomed. Coming back to the footlights of Southwest's stage, they successfully completed the semester's work in the spring festival.

However, never let it be said that their hard work has not had compensation, for along with it came a special array of social events—which included a Christmas party, and, of course, the colossal music picnic in the spring. These events, plus the enjoyment and the fellowship gained in class harmonizing, have truly been rich rewards for the Boys Glee Club.

To be a member of the A Cappella Choir is one of the greatest music honors that one may achieve at Southwest, for it is in the Choir that, the student having slowly progressed along a long and hard road, has finally reached stardom. As we glance back at the year that has just passed, we can still remember the many events in which the students belonging to the choir have participated. The semester was opened by the semi-annual September Hello Day program in which the choir sang such selections as "Sophomoric Philosophy," and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." However, the highlight of the fall semester was "Good News," our operetta. Some of the songs that linger in our minds are "The Varsity Drag" "The Best Things In Life Are Free," "Lucky In Love," and "Just Imagine." The choir then began to prepare for Christmas. Caroling at Union Station and in the halls at school, performing at the Fox Theater, entertaining the Frisco Men's Club at the Jefferson Hotel, and participating in the Christmas Auditorium Session are only a few of the things that this busy group did during the Holiday season.

The choir made its first appearance of the new semester at the Missouri School for the Blind. At this program it sang such selections as "The Halls of Ivy" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." It was next seen at the convention of the American Association of School Administrators, which was held at Kiel Auditorium on February 28. Our choir joined with the choirs of many other high schools in St. Louis to blend their voices as they sang "Psalm 150," "Madame Jeanette," "Song of Man," and "Salute to America." This group also contributed to the March Hello Day program. The year was closed by the choir's final appearance in the spring festival.

Senior Play - - The Patsy

Director: Miss Reilly

On April 21 and 22 the Senior classes of Southwest High School presented the popular comedy, "The Patsy," by Barry Conners. This play was excellently performed by a very talented cast.

The story concerns Patricia Harrington who has to remain in the background until her older sister Grace is married. A brilliant match for Grace is the mother's one anxiety. However, Patsy's father, a traveling salesman, is on her side and succeeds, after much difficulty, in bringing about Patsy's ultimate triumph, that of becoming the bride of the man she loves.

Nancy Ezell in the title role gave an outstanding performance. Her portrayal of the charming, winsome Patricia Harrington will long be remembered as a brilliant piece of character study.

Much of the humor in the play arises from Tony's promising to help Patsy win the man she loves, never dreaming that he, himself, is the man. Bruce Bollman as Tony Anderson delighted the entire audience.

Needless to say this play could not have been presented without the cooperation of a fine supporting cast who, along with the main characters, spent long hours in rehearsal.

Dramatics

Director: Miss Meenach

"Hoow noow brrown coow?" What's this, some farmer lost in those hallowed Southwest corridors at milking time? Of course not! These are just diction exercises practiced by the Dramatics class to develop pearshaped tones. Some over zealous dramatists actually get carried away with their pearshaped tones and such. Yes, when these amateur performers get overcome by the atmosphere of footlights and makeup, all sorts of mishaps can occur. Miss Meenach is constantly on the go administering smelling salts, shock treatments, and Kleenexes to victims of overwhelmed emotions. In addition. Miss Meenach is kept busy serving as Director, Producer, Casting Director, Makeup Expert, Technical Engineer, Promptor, Critic, Propman, and, of course, audience.

Our teenage prodigies are not only trained in stage presence and diction but also in emotional control and facial expression. How does one learn to turn emotions on and off with the ease of a valve or pushing a button? The secret, of course, is in association coupled with well developed concentration. For example, to express joy concentrate on the thrill of passing a chemistry test, for a change. Reverse the process by failing the exam and you have sorrow. Grief can be simulated by substituting an Aud. session for your chemistry period. Facial expression requires some facial preparation. To promote elasticity, hot towels are applied to the face with a slapping motion and grease paint is rubbed into the welts. With the facial muscles thus relaxed, every emotion can flit across the countenance at will.

All joshing aside, these most professional of the Southwest players receive enormous dividends from this enjoyable and informative course. Poise acquired today will net starring roles for the player tomorrow, in college and in the business world.

Radio

Directo

A great American institution is the "Soap Opera!" How often have we eaten breakfast to, "Life Can Be Boreable," while our orange juice was diluted with salty tears? At lunch, "Just Plain William" often moves us to anguish. Our pent-up emotions are again played upon at dinner time when "Porkchop Faces Strife" blares over the ear phones of the family crystal set.

Have you ever wondered where the superb actors and actresses taking part in these radio programs learned to act? Have you ever stopped to contemplate how these talented people developed their talent; how they learned to portray the supreme anxiety, blared over the millions of radios each hour of each day?

Well, if you thoughtful souls can cease the brain-washing process of thinking for just one minute, I'll let you in on the secret. The "bestest" little talent factory this side of Kingshighway is found in our own Southwest High, just ten medium paces due west of the down stairway on the fourth floor. On our well-equipped sound stage, these would be Barrymores learn the three R's of the profession (Ranting, Raving and Radio sound effects). Always beating the path of perfection, Miss Meenach at present is collaborating with this institution's science department to develop what may be the greatest boom for radio since the superheterodyme circuit, snap, crackle and pop proof scripts.

The editors lean back in their comfortable easy chairs and look across at their staff. These members are using electric typewriters, listening to the radio, laughing and joking. No one thinks of work no, not even Business Manager Miss Krenning who is watching an auditor go over the expenses of the Pioneer. The carpeted floors, soundproof and air-conditioned room add to this scene of gaiety, serenity, and comfortable laziness.

This fictitious scene is quite a jolt to the members of the 1954-1955 Pioneer staff, who Joan Milligin come to Room 215 to slave over the school paper. And yet, they enjoy taking part in publishing one of the best St. Louis high school papers, because they feel they have accomplished something. Yes, they can sit back and honestly say, "We've just put out a newspaper that the students will like!"

The editors this year, Pat, Joan, and John think that the paper has been great only through the efforts of the terriffic staff. They add, "Of course, there wouldn't be a Pioneer without the hard work, guidance and understanding of our sponsor, Miss Murphy.

Junior Red Cross - & Service

General Sponsor: Miss Mesloh

In the three pages which follow this one, we have endeavored to set forth the accomplishments of our Junior Red Cross during the past year. These busy marionettes have worked valiently to make their part of the drama of Southwest a successful one. There are three groups of these workers. The first one, which is pictured above, is known as the service group. Its interest lies, for the most part, in knitting. The second group is called the Wade group. Composed of both boys and girls, it has done shop work and sewing throughout the year. The third group, the artists, have used their skilled hands to make many artistic things, which have brightened the bedside of the sick.

The following list tells the story of the busy knitting group:

Two large knitted afghans one knitted baby bonnet

Two pairs of knitted baby shoes One pair of knitted bed shoes

How warm and comfortable these articles will be to the lucky recipients!

In cooperation with the Student Council, this service group also initiated as a school project the sending of one hundred forty-six gift boxes to overseas children.

Junior Red Cross Art

Let us see what our artists have done to brighten the days of the sick G.I.'s. There must have been many a smile with just a suggestion of a tear when they received the clever items fashioned by these gifted Southwesterners. A bedside tray made gay with an attractive tray cover, a decorated napkin, or a favor to rouse one's curiosity often whets a failing appetite; while a carnival hat perched atop a buddy's head will bring a bit of laughter and sunshine into what is otherwise a drab existence.

The following list sets forth the Junior Red Cross art work accomplished by this group during the past year.

One hundred forty-four nut cups

Seventy-seven tray favors

Two hundred eighty-nine decorated napkins

Two hundred thirty-two tray covers

Twenty-five carnival hats

Ninety-six posters

Stamps and Bonds

Sponsor: Mr. Forti

Every Wednesday morning the Spotlight turns on the Southwest financiers—the Stamp and Bond salesmen. "Neither a borrower nor a lender be," they quote, and add, "Make Uncle Sam your banker and be a saver instead."

Southwest's advisory groups have many thrifty citizens. Last year, at the time the Roundup went to press, the combined groups had invested $6,895.75, and by the end of the year the figure stood at $8,677.45. At the end of the eighth month of this school year the sum was $11,927.55, and by June 18, according to Mr. Forti's forecast, the total will be $15,527.55, thus topping last year's by $6,850.10.

If you are one who does not belong to the Southwest Savers this year, you should make it a must next year. Save for that college education, or for a start in a business of your own, or just to have insurance against some future need. Make saving a habit, and you won't be sorry.

The Special Service organization, which has enjoyed one of the longest "runs" in the history of the Southwest drama, has again completed a very successful year. Working in the bookroom, the library, the nurse's office, in Room 202—in fact, anywhere they are needed, members have played their parts well. Southwest Freshmen

Here are pictured the newest members of our marionette cast with their "shining morning" faces. These boys and girls, 164 of them, entered Southwest on January 31, 1955, fired with ambition to succeed and, incidentally, achieve stardom. If we could but foretell the future we would pick the coming stars right now, but their future is veiled from the Roundup seer. In our crystal ball, however, we see in this group somewhere, we know not where, our future student council head. Here, too, is a coming Pioneer editor. The Roundup editor is probably lurking in the background. The leads for the senior play four years hence stand proudly forth.

Our operetta stars are here, too. In fact, all the future Miss and Mr. Bigs of our coming productions are in these pictures.

These students have been divided into five advisory groups. Under the supervision of Miss Mayme Sloat, assistant principal, they have mastered a most difficult problem—that of transition from grade to high school.

With the help of their advisers—Miss Gibbons, Miss Jeffords, Miss Steffen, Mrs. Garwood, and Mr. Pfaff, they can now proudly call themselves true Southwesterners.
